On July 25th at 8 AM High Desert Harley Davidson is hosting a ride know as Patriot Thunder. This is a huge bike ride that supports veteran's organizations. It raises a lot of money for veterans and usually has close to a thousand motorcycles. They have asked our club members to show up for a display of vehicle. They said they can handle

Summer project for you. -By Ron P

Whoa! Is this in the wrong place? Perhaps, but its not every day a 43 GPW project comes up for sale. You want this? Yeah, you know you do.

Our Friend (and IMVPA VP Matt) has a 43 GPW that he's selling. His true passion is the M151 Mutt (well no one is perfect) so he says one project has to go. I think he needs a wife to tell him all projects need to go, but that's just my uninformed opinion. Has title, Make reasonable offer. Reach out to him at Mosin-matt@gmail.com

His glass is half empty. -By anonymous

It's really lazy newsletter writing and I've had enough. I mean there's always mistakes, and the ad for the GPW ran last month but someone was too lazy to take it down, hoping no one would notice. I mean for sale ads go in the back of the newsletter, not as a feature article. I could go on and on.

This is clearly a situation where someone was friends with the editor and asked for an article disguised as a classified ad, and it was put in because there was space and no one else submitted anything anyway and no one questioned it! What's to like it about it...that there's a fairly complete WW2 GPW, tons of parts, rolling chassis, body, and all someone has to do is buy it and bubba that thing back together and bam, they got a rare WW2 Jeep. Obviously I'm a fan of old iron but hey, that's a pretty good deal huh, and its ready to be picked up, you say boxes of parts? With title too? Hmmm. Well I'm still upset. I might make an offer on it. But still. (Editor response: sir, we deeply regret any suggestion of impropriety. We strive only for the highest standards of Integrity. We'll look into this.

ASAP.)

editor notes, (remove before publishing), Man this guy's a douchebag
