

OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER OF THE IDAHO MILITARY VEHICLE PRESERVATION ASSOCIATION

April 2016

The President's Corner

This is the 25th Anniversary of the Persian Gulf War, where a joint and combined coalition led by the United States expelled Saddam Hussein's Army from Kuwait. At that time he had the world's 4th largest army.

The victory cost America 383 lives. At that time I was just a private in the mechanized infantry Oregon National Guard. Sadly we were never mobilized. But I recall those days clearly, and patriotism was running high. I'm grateful that in Idaho, patriotism still runs high. There sure are great people here in this state!

Our club has been formally invited to carry the US Colors in the opening lap at the Meridian Speedway in front of 5000 people. Wow what a rush, and what a patriotic way to start the year.

Each vehicle will carry a military branch flag. Sign up now as we still need two more vehicles!

We had our first meeting at Marie Calenders. I'm grateful to say that the turn out was excellent. There was some drama as we had to move into the banquet room, and the waitress was overworked but it was manageable.

Bruce G had surgery on his leg, but he is doing much better now. I gave him a call on behalf of the club and let him know that we hope he gets better soon, especially with all the fun spring events coming up fast.

Again on the topic of patriotism, I'd like to say that it really makes me proud to be a part of this club, when so many organizations ask for us by name to come to their event. Yes it could be a busy year. I hope to see you Tuesday at Marie Calenders!

April Club Minutes

The minutes will now be read at the meetings. We will only summarize them here. There were 18 members present with 1 new prospective member and 1 guest. Andy from Kohler Lawn came to the meeting and asked us to come back this year. So far only two members have committed.

Everyone at the meeting had the opportunity to review the following documents:

By laws and Mission Statement
Fruitland Show plan (draft)
IMVPA social roster

-We welcomed prospective new member Jim Johnson, who bought a HMMWV from Alex Gordon.

-We talked about T shirts expenditures. Since then the shirts have arrived; thank you Don Wadley, for making this happen!

-If anyone can work the gun show with the Carrol Brothers, let them know. Our main purpose is to advertise the Fruitland Military Show, but we also intend to sell some apparel as well.

-Thank you to all the members that donated funds for girl scout cookies. They will be donated to the Idaho Veterans Home.

.-There was much discussion about how the Fruitland Military Show is being planned. Too much to discuss here. If you want to know more, attend the Planning Committee meeting. POCs are Larry and Gary Carrol.

-Finally, we talked about doing a club campout this summer. Naturally, no plans were laid in stone. If anyone has any ideas, let's discuss at the next meeting.

"The Rumor Mill"

- A mouse told us that the Dottie Mae will fly this summer! What is the Dottie Mae? Well it's a P47 that is being restored by Vintage Air Frames in Caldwell.

- We keep hearing the meetings are moved to different places. A deception plan works well in the Army, but in the IMVPA it's not a good idea. Meetings are at Marie Calenders until further notice!

Upcoming events:

The March IMVPA Meeting.

Photo: Dick B shows us the purple heart medal that he received in WW2.

Photo left: For the first time in while, we held the meeting at a restaurant. There were 20 folks in attendance. Marie Calenders gave us the banquet room. Following the meeting Bob S gave us a very interesting presentation on vintage tools. He talked about who the manufacturers were, how to identify them, where to find them, and how to match tools to your tool box and military vehicle.

Book Review: "Samurai!" by Soburo Sokai, Fred Saito, and Martin Caido

By Ron P

Soburo Sokai was the leading surviving Japanese ace of WW2, and was thought to have shot down 64 allied planes. The actual number is unknown, since Japanese procedure was to give credit to the unit, not the individual. Sokai came from Samurai ancestry, but was born and raised as a poor farmer. Through a little luck and hard work, he rose through the ranks in the Japanese Navy and was accepted to flight school, where he graduated first in his class.

Sokai earned a reputation as a skilled pilot, and was mentored by many of Japan's finest aviators. During the battle of Guadalcanal, Sokai and his flight of 3 Zeroes attacked 8 US fighter aircraft. Sokai shot down two aircraft, but in the battle a bullet entered his cockpit and struck him in the head, blinding him in one eye and paralyzing one side of his body. He somehow managed to fly 47 minutes back to Rabaul, and insisted on making his report to his superior before collapsing. After being discharged from the hospital in 1943, Sokai spent a year as a trainer. Although he never regained full eyesight in one eye, he insisted on returning to combat.

In June of 1944 Sokai approached a flight of 15 F6F Hellcats that he mistakenly believed were friendly. He was instantly surrounded by a hornets nest, and he found himself fighting for his life. Although he had a vastly inferior aircraft and only one good eye, Sokai demonstrated his incredible skill as a pilot, and evaded the Americans and made it back to his airfield.

In another incident, Sokai came across a Dutch DC-3. Although he had orders to destroy any aircraft he saw, he chose to let the unarmed aircraft go when he spotted a woman and child on board. He never reported this to his superiors.

After the war, Soburo Sokai became close friends with many of his former opponents, and met with them often. He also embraced Buddhist teachings, as an act of atonement. After WW2 he would never again harm another creature for as long as he lived, not even a mosquito. Soburo Sokai died in 2000 at the age of 84.
